Direct Notice to Parents Regarding Children's Personal Information Collected on our App

Collection of Information:

With your consent, which you may provide as described below, we collect the following information from your child when they use our App: (a) persistent identifiers, such as cookies, IP address, and device ID; (b) online contact information for push notifications, but only after the user of the App opts in to push notifications, which are sent for reminders, special classes, and new content; (c) a username (which can be set up as anonymous or otherwise non-identifying) and training activity, which are automatically posted within the App, such as to the public Spalding TF DNA leaderboard on the App and when utilizing certain features, (d) ratings and reviews, which may be used on our website and in various other media and for other purposes consistent with our Terms of Use; and (e) age and height (to accurately calculate shot distance within the App). All of the above information is collected for the purpose of our internal operations and to provide and enhance our Services.

All ratings and reviews are subject to a moderation process, whereby submissions are pre-screened and personal information is removed before being made public. Submissions containing personal information may not get posted altogether. By submitting a review, you acknowledge and agree, on behalf of yourself or your child, that the review may be public and may be used in marketing campaigns on our website, emails and on various other media and for other purposes consistent with our Terms of Use.

Verifiable Parental Consent: We need your consent to collect, use, or disclose the personal information described above from your child. We will not collect, use, or disclose any personal information from your child if you do not provide consent, as detailed below.

In order to verify you are a parent, approximately 24 hours after you have consented to this Direct Notice, we will send you a confirmation email to the online contact information provided. You will then have an opportunity to revoke your consent to this Direct Notice if you so choose. If you do so, your contact information will be deleted from our systems. If you are a new user of our paid Membership service and sign up through our website or App, you may also be asked to provide your credit card information to confirm you are a parent.

If you wish to revoke consent to the terms set forth in this notice regarding the collection of information from children, you may do so by sending an email to support@spalding.tf-dna.app requesting that your account be removed. If you do so, you and your child will no longer be able to access the App.
